

Innovating Energy for Food

Reduce costs, increase profits, support sustainability
Tuesday 23 July, Workshops Rail Museum, Ipswich

A one-day briefing for growers and processors presented by Food Innovation Australia Limited and the Australian Alliance for Energy Productivity

Morning - Managing energy

09:00 to 10.15 Everything you wanted to know about energy, but were afraid to ask
James Krahe, Innovation Manager, Food Innovation Limited
Alan Pears, Senior Industry Fellow, RMIT University

10:30 to 11:45 Practical ways to reduce waste and improve value
Andrew Chamberlin, Project Manager – Energy, Queensland Farmers' Federation
Alan Pears, Senior Industry Fellow, RMIT University

11:45 to 12:45 Real world examples of serious savings
Shara Bidois, Senior Associate - Aggregation Partnerships, Clean Energy Finance Corporation
David May, Chief Executive Officer, DA Hall & Co
Amelia Simony, Group Environment Manager, Teys Australia

Afternoon - A boost for profit

1:30 to 2:00 Innovation for profit: Moving boundaries
Jonathan Jutsen, Chief Executive Officer, Australian Alliance for Energy Productivity
Mark Mitchell, Managing Director, Supercool

2:00 to 3:30: Growers and processors

Innovation for agribusiness
Max Barnes, Process Engineer, All Energy Pty Ltd
Scott Wallace, Hort360 Manager, Growcom

Innovation for food processors
Michael Bellstedt, Managing Director, MINUS 40
Robert Nicholson, Energy Sector Lead, Pitt & Sherry

3.30 to 4:00 Round-up, networks

FIAL is the food and agribusiness growth centre. We're the voice of industry to government. We connect businesses with researchers to innovate new products and services.
Food Innovation Australia Limited | fial.com.au
email: info@fial.com.au phone: 03 9731 3422

A2EP is leading a drive to double energy productivity in Australia by 2030. Our innovation program aims to accelerate the uptake of technology focused on energy transformation.
Australian Alliance for Energy Productivity | a2ep.org.au
email: a2ep@a2ep.org.au phone: 02 94514 4948